ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A wrapping system for wrapping items is comprised of a sheet member, made from paper, cloth, cellophane, foil, polymer film or similar material, having an upper surface with any desired
5 decorative feature thereon and a lower surface that has a mid-term removable adhesive, such as an acrylic copolymer adhesive thereon. The adhesive permits an appropriate peel strength to hold around the corner of a box, yet has sufficient removability time to permit wrapping material repositioning or 10 removal for a desired length of time after initial application.
